

HOW ARE HAVE ARRIVED

In 1998, I was founder of Law Firm Perugi located in the city of Viterbo, provincial capital of the Region of Lazio, located in central Italy, which is approximately one hour from the center of Rome.

I have always been fond of American culture. Having kept close relationships with many American citizens, I hoped that one day I would mesh the American mindset and incorporate it into my legal practice. That day had arrived.

It has been my past professional experience that there is a need here in Italy for many Italian/Americans. The time has come to breack new ground explore all options possible in creating an "International Division" here at the Law Firm of Perugi in view of a feasible business initially experimenting with small business transactions and especially paying for legal aid for those there have been many Americans who have some interest in Italy that still links them to heir origins.

Advocacy in Italy is changing abruptly, therefore the italian attorney must adapt to these changes in order to secure a future in these unsteady time of crisis.

The Law Firm Perugi not sure it can act as a competitor to the big law firm in Rome, but moves in smaller circuits, as "artisan"

One must consider that more than half the activities that are permissible for attorney to practice in the United State are NOT possible in Italy, which is why the collaboration of both firms working together is so important. Ethically it is not possible for an attorney to deal in a commercial manner for there is an emphasis placed on the Social responsibility of the Italian lawyer.

Experience has therefore shown the need of assisting Italian /Americans in areas governing hereditary and real estate law.

We call on fellow American and their partners, who may be interested in expanding their business.

THE FIRM

The law firm was founded in 1998 within the city wall of Viterbo.

Renovated in 1989 by my father Raniero Perugi, who then was an engineer by trade, envisioned all his children working collectively under one roof. Unfortunately that same year-my father passed prior to the completion of his project.

The structure was designed with sleek modern architectural lines, and resembles that of a technical studio, rather than a typical law office.

We at the legal firm Perugi have a deep and heartfelt connection to our office, as we are proud of our father legacy.

ALFREDO PERUGI

Attorney at law. I was born in Rome, Italy. I graduated in Jurisprudence from the Roman University "La Sapienza" in 1994.

I initially wanted to follow in my father's foot step which was engineering. I, nevertheless, directed my activities in a different field. My interests led me to civil law with particular concentration in real estate law with focus on the law governing contracts, building, sales, rentals, merges, condominium, and multiple ownerships.

I have also focused on the adoption of international, right of foreigners, along with criminal and tax law.

Recently, I furthered my interest for several years, in Internet law by following the course of Master of Specialization at the Economics of Rome.

...There was a time in my life when i was afraid to waste time. i have been a fierce worker. a worker respite. My task was to study the law and if a half hour of my time was not dedicated to the law, i believed that it was a half hour wasted. i did not get to the point of not reciting my prayers, however, i said them with haste in order to gain time, as it is noted and as is done by the majority of the people, in church or outside. in fact not waste my time is the mantle of modern world ...
